Jos. Horne & Co., THE MONROE DOCTRINE

An Explanation of What It is and the Causes of It.

ITS ORIGIN AND SIGNIFICANCE.

The Famous Message of President Monroe Laylog Down the Dootrine Which Has Since Been Regarded by All Americansas a Proper and Patet. otio Principle-The Causes for Its Declaration,

John B. McMaster has in the Non York Herald a lengthy article giving the history of the Monroe doctrine and its application at various times. The following extracts are of especial interest at this time when the application of the doctrine with regard to the British. Nicaraguan trouble is being much dis-

In September, 1815, not long after the battle of Waterloo, the emperors of Russia and Austria and the king of Prussia met at Paris, and formed what in this country was called "the conspiracy of kings," but what in Europe was called the "Holy Alliance." The oatenible purpose of the alliance was the subordination of politics to the Christian religion and the preservation of peace. But it had not been long in existence when it began to hold congresses for the regulation of the affairs of Europe, extended and sustained monarchical principles as far as possible, stamped out democratic and popular institutions wherever they appeared, and sont armies to put down the popular uprisings in Naples and South America.

At this Great Britain took alarm and suggested to the American minister that country was called "the conspiracy of suggested to the American minister that the United States should take a decided stand against the meddling of the Hold Alliance in South America. Monroe at once consulted his cabinet and sent the correspondence to Jefferson, from whom came a long reply, containing the words, "Our first and fundamental maxim

"Our first and fundamental maxim should be, never to entangle ourselves in the broils of Europe; our second never to suder Europe to intermeddle with cis-Atlantic silairs."

This was a brief and clear statement of an idea which had been growing up in our country for forty years, and had been expressed in one form or another by nearly twenty public men. Whother its should now be announced as a part of our policy was lonk and carefully considered by the crhinet. The decision was that it should, and in his message to Congress on December 23, 1823, Monroe stated it in these words:—

PRESIDENT MONROE'S MESSAGE.

PRESIDENT MONROE'S MESSAGE.

"In the discussion to which this intorest (the rights of the United States on the northwest coast of America) has given rise, and in the arrangements by which they may terminate, the occasion has been judged proper for asserting, as has been judged proper for asserting, as a principle in which the rights and interests of the United States are involved, that the American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintained, are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for inture colonization of any European powers."

Turning next to the hely alliance he said:

said:

"We owe it, therefore, to candor, and to the amicable relations existing between the United States and those powers, to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power we have not interfered, and shall not interfere. But with the governments who have declared their independence, and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration who have declared their independence, and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and on just principles, acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them, or controlling in any other manner their destiny, by any European power, in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States.

"" " Our policy in regard to Europe, which was adopted at an early stage of the wars which have so long sgitated that quarter of the globe, nevertheless remains the same, which is, not to interfere with the internal concerns of any of its powers; to consider the government for us; to cultivate friendly relations with it, and to preserve those relations by a frank, firm and manly polloy, meeting, in all instances, the just claims of every power, submitting to injuries from none. But in regard to these continents circumstances are eminently and conspicuously different. It is imtinents circumstances are eminently and conspicuously different. It is impossible that the allied powers should extend their political system to any portion of either continent without endangering our peace and happiness; nor can anyone believe that our southern brothren, if left to themselves, would adopt it of their own accord. It is equally impossible, therefore, that we should behold such interposition, in any form, with indifference."

THE DOCTRINE IN ITS SUBDIVISIONS This was the famous Mouroe doctring. as aunounced by the President whose name it bears, a doctrine, it will be ob served, which consisted of three distinct and separate parts:—

1. No more European colonies on these continents.

2. No extension of the European political system to any part of the hemisphere.

2. No extension of the European political system to any part of the hemisphere.

3. No European interposition in the affairs of the Spanish-American republics.

At home the declaration was read with pride and satisfaction, and an attempt which failed, was at once made by Clay to have so much of it as related to the intervention of the Holy Alliance in the affairs of South America embodied in a joint resolution of the house and senate. But in England, according to our minister then resident in London, the new dectrine was heard with extravagant delight. The English pross were loud in their praise of the firm stand taken by the United States. The South American deputies in London were wild with joy, and South American securities of every sort rose in value.

American socurities of every sort rose in value.

This doctrine has never been indersed by any resolution or act of Congress, but still remains the declaration of a President and his cabinot. Neverthe-President and his cabinet. Navertheless, it was and is an eminently proper and patriotic dectrine, and as such has been indersed by the people of the United States, and needs no other sanction. The people, not Congress, rule this country. It is not of the smallest consequence, therefore, whether Congress ever has or ever does inderse the dectrine, which very fittingly bears the name of the first President to announce it.

The Monroe dectrine is a simple and plain statement that the people of the United States appose the creation of European dominion on American soil; that they oppose the transfer of the po-litical sovereignty of American sell to European powers, and that any at-tempt to do these things will be re-garded as "dangerous to our peace and

It does not commit us to take part in wars between a South American re-public and a European sovereign when the object of the latter is not the founding of a monarchy under a European prince in place of an everthrown re-public. In the present instance, there-fore, the doctrine does not apply so long as England does not hold the ports of Nicaragua longer than is necessary to accure the payment of the sum she is determined to extort. Should she at-tempt to hold Nicaragua forever, the Monroe doctrine would apply and our duty would be resistance.

WILL NOT INTERPRETE

The Policy of the United States On the Kastern War Trouble Made Clear. WASHINGTON, April 29 .- The attitude of the United States on the eastern war trouble has been made clear to the various powers interested. In brief, it is that the unvarying policy of this country is not to form alliances which may involve in in complications with the countries of Europe or Asia. It is a reassertion of the policy of isolation, except in so far as this country may be able to exert a kindly or diversory influence toward the adjustment of trouble involving easternnations. The foregoing is now accepted by diplomats here at the policy which will guide the United States in the pending European complications over the Japan-China settlement. At one time within recent days there was a prospect try is not to form alliances which may complications over the state and continued that the United States might cooperate with Great Britain and Italy in endeavoring to effect a solution of the Japan-China trouble and the belligarent protest of Russia, France and Germany. Such action if it had been taken would not have been in the nature of assistance to Japan, but merely an exertion of joint influence to persuade China to ratify the peace agreement. It is said by diplomats that as Japan has already ratified the agreement, similar action by China would make it effective. While therefore Russia, France and Germany were promant, similar action by China would make it effective. While therefore Russia, France and Germany were protesting at Tokio, the desire of the other powers was to bring to bear their influences at Pekin.

It is known positively that Italy's policy is that of a neutral, but that it lavors the execution of the Japan-China agreement as already made, and to this extent its sympathies are with Japan. This will not, however, go to the extent of opposing the Russo-Franco-German alliance.

It is understood that Great Britain's It is understood that Great Britain's course is along the same lines. So far as the United States is concerned there will be no co-operation, as already stated, except in such kindly way as may seem for the interest of all concerned, but always short of an alliance or the possibilities of forcible complications. tions.

HIGHBINDERS KICK

Against the Alleged Blackmailing of the San Francisco, April 29.—Rising with the fetid smells in the heart of Chinatown Sanday afternoon, there was a babel of surill voices that could be heard for blocks, and a great crowd of pig-tailed, blue-bloused and greasy-lookpig-tailed, blue-bloused and greasy-looking Chittase was fairly wodged in at two corners on Dupont street, where Washington and Jamieson intersect. So dense was the excited mass that it blocked the street and compelled the cable line to suspend operations, pending a clearing of the way. The trouble was over four Chinese placards at each of the points named, evidently a manifesto issued by highbinders and which may be productive of a war in the Chinese quarters. This was the text of the placards:

"Take notice—The white devils sent

"Take notice—The white devils sent into Chinatown by Chief of Police Crowley have lately been held in check. They do no more blackmailing. We are They do no more blackmailing. We are only relieved from one class of blood-suckers to be afflicted with another. The captain and eight men appointed by the Six Companies to keep order are now worse than over the white devils were. They are blackmailing the women, the opium sellers and lottery games. None of us are safe from them, and it is time they were done away with. We have to put up with the white devils, but we won't put up with the Six Companies' devils."

Some time ago the Chinese Six Companies organized a police force of its own. It is composed of nine men—a captain, sergeant and seven patrolmen.

TWO SUICIDES

In Central Park, New York-Both Mystertous Cases.

New York, April 29 .- Two men committed sulcide in Central Park to-day, one by hanging and the other by shooting himself. The first suicide was found hanging by a rope to a branch of a tree on the hill opposite Eighty-fifth street and Eighth avenue. There was nothing on the body of the man that would lead to his identification. He was apparently forty years old. The only effects found on him was a small, openfaced silver watch and a small pocket knife. The second suicide was that of man seemingly twenty-four years old. His identity is also unknown. White seated on a bench in the park, near the entrance at Seventy-ninth street and Seventh avenue, the man sent a bullet into his temple. AN IMPORTANT CAPPURE. Sher Afeal, the Fugitive Usurper, in the Hands of the Khan Dir

London, April 29 .- The Times publishes a disputch from Dir, in the Chitral district, which says: "The khan of Dir has arrived here with Sher Afzul, the fugitive usurper of the throne of Chitral, and 1,500 other priseners. He drove Sher Afzul through the snow and starved him into surrouder. The politi-cal effect of the capture is very import-ant. The whoreabouts of Umra Khan is uncertain. Twenty of his men have been captured and disarmed of Martini

HORRORS AT A FIRE

At Least Three Lives Known to De Lost in Pirranuagu, April 29 .- A frame dwelling owned by Heary Suyder, in the East End, and occupied by Samuel Weaver and family, burned last night. Weaver was very ill with typhoid fever and was known to have perished, but and was known to have perished, bus this morning his body and that of Proderich Snyder, son of the owner of the building, were recovered from the ruins. A male nurse who was attending Mr. Weaver is also missing and it is feared that he is burned to death, while Mrs. Weaver is in a critical condition from burns and fright,

The fire started in an adjoining house and soon communicated to the Snyder.

The fire started in an adjoining house and soon communicated to the Snyder building. Mrs. Weaver is the mother of a two-days-old baby, and she and her child were rescued with great difficulty. A number of men ran to the rescue of Weaver and carried him part way out, when they laid him on a cot and continued their journey. The man who was at the head of the cot was walking backward. The space was cramped and the man was forced against a table on which a glass-lamp was burning. The lamp was thrown to the floor and the oil flashed out, setting fire to the carpet. At this instant an outside porch which At this instant an outside porch which was burning gave way and swung against a door. The door fell in and a mass of burning wood followed it; some of it falling on Weaver's body and the men around him. The cot could not be moved and the rescuers were forced to leave the invalid and run for their own safety.

The fate of young Snyder and the nurse was not known until this morning. The loss was about $10,000.

Later—The body of William Mitchell, aged thirty-two, the nurse attending Mr. Weaver, was recovered later to-day, making the third fatality from the fire. Mitchell had stayed with his patient in hopes of saving him and had thus sacrificed his own life. ficed his own life.

Suicide to a Jail.

Easton, Pa., April 28.-Samuel C. Carpenter, of this city, accused of the murder of Mrs. Ray Blackwell, of Phillipsburg, N. J., cut his throat in the cell occupied by him and is now lying at the point of death. An examination of his wound shows that none of the arteries have been severed, but he has losted much blood that his recovery is doubtful.

Mardered and Robbed.

MANSFIELD, O., April 28 .- Frederick Boebel, a contractor, who resides in this city, was murdered and robbed while returning to his home from Crest while returning to his home from Crest-line early this morning. The work was done by hobes, who secured about four hundred dollars in checks. The de-ceased was forty-live years of age and leaves a wife and four children.

A Sweeping Increase.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 29.-The state board of equalization has increased the assessments of state property $14,000,000 above the total valuation of county as-sessors. This is the greatest increase ever made, except by the board of 1893. This sweeping increase does not make the total equal to the equalized value of last year.

Called to See the Great Father WASHINGTON, April 29 .- A delegation of Otoe and Missouri Indians called at the white house to see the President to-day, but made their speeches to Secretary Thurber. They are protesting against the allotment and division of their lands in Oklahoma. They were directed to lay their case before the commissioner of Indian affairs.

Oscar Wilde's Trial.
